WITHOUT DAY.

BOTH HOUSES OF THE FIFTIETH CONGRESS ADJOURN,

AFTER A SESSION OF THREE HUNDRED AND TWENTY DAYS.

A Joint Resolution Passed to Allow the Government Exhibit at the Cincinnati Centennial to Remain Until November 15—Conclusion of the Negotiations With the Sioux—Off For Home.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—At 1 o'clock the senate adjourned without day, and one of its most interesting sessions. After 320 days devoted to the discussion of economic questions, after the passage by the house of representatives of a notable tariff measure, and the declaration by the Republican party of its views on this important question by the report from the finance committee of a substitute for the house measure, congress suspends its public work until the first Monday in December.

At 1 p. m. the house adjourned without day. As soon as the gavel had fallen a large number of correspondents standing in the press gallery sang "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," amid applause and other demonstrations of approval from the public galleries and the floor of the house.

Before closing, both senate and house passed a joint resolution authorizing the exhibit at the Cincinnati centennial to remain there until November 15.

The Sioux.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Sioux have split into two factions. More than fifty of the sixty-seven Indians here have signed a protest against the propositions of the government. The rest have signed a letter denouncing their companions for inconsistency, saying that it was agreed between them before coming to Washington that they would not ask more than $5,000,000, whereas they now want $13,750,000.

The majority have formally notified Secretary Vilas that the government propositions are rejected. They submitted a counter proposition, agreeing to accept $1.25 per acre for their lands; the money to be paid at once. This proposition, the secretary declared, could not for a moment be entertained by the government. The Indians were presented to the president this afternoon, and have left for their reservations.

This concludes the negotiation under the new law, which was opened some months ago by the appointment of the Sioux commission. Secretary Vilas expressed the opinion that the rejection by the Indians of his propositions was due to the fact that the execution of the law would break up tribal relations and deprive these chiefs of their present authority and standing.

CARELESS QUARRYMEN.

They Attempt to Drill Out Unfired Charge of Dynamite—The Result.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 22.—Hanson Graham, John Gore, Robert Gore and "Duck" Williams were quarrying stone at the United States lock just below this city Friday morning, when they were blown up by dynamite. They had put four sticks of dynamite in the whole, but it failed to explode. They then proceeded to drill it out, and, of course, an explosion followed.

Graham had an arm broken and both eyes blown out, and the bone just above the left eye was shattered. His right arm was bitterly bruised and torn. He cannot recover. John Gore's left hand was blown entirely off and his right fore arm was so shattered that it had to be taken off. He had several severe contusions on the head, and he can hardly recover.

Robert Gore's arms were very much lacerated and had several severe bruises and cuts on the body, but his wounds are not fatal.

Williams, who was standing a little apart from the others, escaped very lightly, receiving a few slight cuts and bruises about the head by the flying stones.

California Trout in Indiana Waters.

LAPORTE, Ind., Oct. 22.—In the spring of 1885 a number of small California trout were planted here in Stone lake as an experiment to see if they would propagate in these waters. About two years ago one was caught, but none of any size were ever taken until a few days ago, when the yardmaster of the Lake Shore road caught one weighing two and a half pounds while fishing for sunfish, using angle worms for bait. It was a handsome fish, having the peculiar looking under jaw and mouth of a brook trout, and scales of unusual brightness and beauty. The fish has a yellowish tinge, much in resemblance of the brook trout, and it is supposed these fish are a cross between that species and the salmon. The one caught was well filled with spawn, which shows that they will probably breed in these waters. The lake in which the young fry was planted is fed entirely by springs.

Under a Snow Slide.

TELLURIDE, Col., Oct. 22.—Thursday while Charles and William Weller, miners, were digging their way through the snow from Lajunta Basin, a snow slide came down the mountain, carrying the men down the side of the mountain for 1,500 feet and burying them under twenty feet of snow and rocks. William managed, by the aid of a pocket knife, to dig himself out, and though wounded, made his way to town. A rescuing party started out, and after two hours hard work, found the body of Charles underneath several hundred tons of snow and rocks crushed to a shapeless mass.

Revolution in Cuba.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Oct. 22.—The schism between the north and the south is complete. Cape Haytien, Port de Paix and Gonaives are marching on Port au Prince to avenge Telemache's death. A proclamation has been issued to the inhabitants of the cape giving the details of the assassination of Gen. Telemache by the enemies of the revolution, and says the north will remain under arms, sworn to death rather than live to see the accomplishment of the designs of those who planned and executed the murder.

JUSTICE STANLEY MATTHEWS.

His Recovery Regarded as Certain, But It May Be Very Slow.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—In view of the repeated misrepresentations as to the condition of Justice Stanley Matthews, Dr. Johnson, the attending physician, has made a statement embracing all the circumstances in connection with the illness of the distinguished sufferer.

"Justice Matthews," he said, "is suffering from a chronic ailment, but is steadily improving and is now much better than at the time of his return to this city, about four months ago. The only reticence that has been shown is inspired by feelings that the details of sickness were of no interest to the public and not from any desire to conceal the real condition of things. The nature of his illness was primarily indigestion, chiefly confined to the intestines, which resulted in an impaired state of nutrition and in an alteration of the blood known as lithæmia.

"This predisposes to rheumatic and gouty attacks, and the judge has suffered from time to time with attacks of muscular pain, lasting for a few days. While the improvement in such a case is necessarily slow, there is no alarm felt about him, and there is every indication to think that the progress toward recovery will continue. The judge has been in bed as a matter of precaution, although he has sufficient strength to be up. He received a number of callers, among them being some of the members of the supreme court and the chief justice. I look forward to his resuming his seat on the bench, but as to the exact time I cannot say. The weather and various other conditions will effect that result."

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

The Weekly Trade Review of R. G. Dun & Company, of New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Exports of breadstuffs, cotton, provisions, petroleum and cattle from the principal ports in September were $34,308,679 in value, against $37,049,761 last year. But since October 1 the breadstuffs movement has been almost entirely arrested, as is natural with prices at New York higher than at Liverpool, and December wheat as high at Chicago as at New York. Perception of the unnatural state of the markets has led to some declines during the week, wheat having tallied four and one-eighth cents, corn two and three-eighths cents, hogs and lard one-fourth cent each, cotton one-eighth cent, refined oil one-eighth cent, and petroleum certificates one cent.

During the week the treasury paid out $12,000,000 gold, $2,400,000 silver, and $900,000 legal tenders. An addition of over $18,000,000 to the circulation in a week would tend, in ordinary conditions, to lift prices in speculative markets, and yet the tendency of prices has been downward during the week.

Every interior point reporting represents business as improving, and at not a few points it is larger than a year ago. The increased transactions at speculative centers swell bank clearings, so that the increase outside of New York over last year is about 10 per cent., but, with full allowance for the influence of speculation, it is evident that the volume of legitimate trade is also very large. No complaint of scarcity of money is heard, and the demand from this city, though still large, shows some signs of abatement. Nor are complaints of tardiness in collections as frequent as they were recently.

A decrease of 1,000 tons in the weekly output of charcoal makes the net increase during September in iron of all kinds 3,645 tons weekly, or 3 per cent. The market for pig is a waiting one, without change in prices. Bar iron is rather less firm, owing to western offerings, and in nails no eastern sales are reported, and only 10,000 tons at Pittsburgh and 20,000 tons at Chicago. The official report shows that sales for nine months ending October 1 were 1,134,883 tons, against 1,833,126 last year, and deliveries 921,363 tons, against 1,390,825 last year.

The coal trade is now quiet. In lead a fall of $4 per 100 pounds in a day was attributed entirely to speculation, and the same influence lifted coffee slightly, though the distributive demand is still restricted. The sugar market favors buyers, and in groceries generally there is some evidence of slackening demand. The wool market continues strong, with the best grades scarce, and prices have again slightly advanced. A firmer feeling is rated in dry goods, though the trade at present is only moderate in volume, and buyers continue to operate with caution.

The failures occurring throughout the country during the week number 224, as compared with 227 last week, and 211 the week previous. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 201.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Oct. 22.—John Gill, a leading merchant tailor of this city, attacked his sleeping wife in bed Friday morning with a large pair of shears and inflicted several terrible wounds in her breast and head. For over a week Gill has been drinking heavily, and owing to loss of sleep he became seized with delirium tremens. No persons were in the house except Gill's three little children, the eldest of whom raised an alarm, and neighbors hastened to the rescue of Mrs. Gill, who was found lying on the bed insensible from the loss of blood. After a desperate resistance Gill was lodged in jail. His wife may die.

THE RED CROSS.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL AGENT FOR THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY.

HE TELLS OF THE WORK OF THE ASSOCIATION IN THE SOUTH

During the Yellow Fever Plague, and Says It Soon Became Evident That They Were Not Wanted in Jacksonville By Certain Parties—Colonel Southmayd Refers to His Withdrawal From Jacksonville.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The report of Col. F. R. Southmayd, special agent for the Mississippi valley for the American National Red Cross, has been obtained by the United Press. In his report Col. Southmayd details the authority and instructions received from the association at the time when he was called upon to go into the yellow fever district which required him to act in full accord with the Jacksonville authorities. Under these instructions he started with eighteen persons September 11 for Jacksonville.

Of his own motive he says: "I assure you that the sight of human suffering and anguish is very painful to me, and only a sense of duty would ever carry me where I would be compelled to see it; coupled with a hope that, in some way, I might do my part in mitigating suffering and bear help and succor to the distressed. Any other interpretation put upon it is unjust and a slander."

The first stricken town reached by the party was McClenny where they learned that there had been eighty cases of fever with ten deaths to date. The town was cut off by quarantine and without a nurse. A difficulty arose. The conductor was under positive orders not to stop at McClenny. "A kind providence mercifully made opportunity. A hot-box on one of the trucks of a passenger car was the opened way; and having already gotten ten nurses—seven women and three men—with their little baggage into the front car; Conductor Kidwell stopped the train for two minutes one hundred yards beyond the town and your squad of helpers got out about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, September 12, in a hard rain to commence your ministry of help to the stricken people of McClenny."

From Baldwin, where the train stopped that evening, Col. Southmayd sent ice and other supplies to McClenny by special train. Col. Southmayd thought seriously of establishing headquarters at Baldwin, where he had free communication with the outside world. He sent his companions into Jacksonville Thursday, but on Friday he made up his mind to establish his headquarters, as originally intended at Jacksonville, and so he went into town and reported to Dr. Neal Mitchell, who received him most cordially, and subsequently introduced him to Mr. George E. Wilson, chairman of the bureau of nurses. "Mr. Wilson said he was glad I had come, as they were in great need of my assistance in getting things in order and adopting a system upon which to proceed and to rid them of their confusion."

On the following day he met the executive committee of the Auxiliary Sanitary association, and explained to them the purposes and organization of the Red Cross, which seemed to impress them, and Chairman Schunacher, of the finance committee, thought they should form a Red Cross association for the work that would come on them when the present emergency had passed away.

In the absence of Col. Daniel, president of the organization, the committee adjourned without action. At this point the colonel says: "I was not notified of any other meeting, nor was I ever again invited to a meeting of the executive committee; though on Monday, the 17th, with Mr. Edwin Martin, editor of the Times-Union, a noble, Christian gentleman and heroic worker in the epidemic, who has gone to his reward, a martyr on the altar of devotion to his people, I was present at the meeting of the association and he wanted to bring me before the committee of the whole, but as it had been begun in executive committee, which adjourned to meet and consider the matter that day, as I understood it, with Col. Daniel Present, who was there, I asked Mr. Martin to let it so remain, which he did."

On Saturday after the meeting Col. Southmayd went to McClenny on a special train and brought back with him Doctor William Paton, of Mobile. They were detained in quarantine at Baldwin that night.

Up to September 18, Col. Southmayd had heard nothing from the executive committee, and although he had tendered his services they had been refused even for clerical work. He says he saw much in which he could have been of assistance but he would not force himself on the committee.

On September 18 Col. Southmayd says he was notified by wire of the criticism of the Red Cross in the New York World. He adds that the World correspondent had been rescued from quarantine at Baldwin on the 13th and taken to McClenny, and that two days afterward, when he (Southmayd) was again at McClenny, having never had a request for information of any kind concerning the Red Cross, he found that association accused, in the columns of the World, of wanting to run the city of Jacksonville. "It soon became evident," says the colonel, "that I was not wanted in Jacksonville by certain parties."

The writer was asked on the 19th to accompany Col. Daniel to a meeting of the executive committee, but he had a prior engagement to go to Camp Perry to confer with Surgeon-General Hamilton.

He replied: "Col. Daniel said that he had been much grieved at what had been printed in the World; spoke of his esteem for me personally; said he wanted me, and that his people needed my help and the benefit of my experience in epidemic and that they wanted and should have the Red Cross. I told him that I would be glad to serve him and his people; that the hope that I might do so was all that had brought me to Jacksonville, and that it had been my intention to lay the methods I had been accustomed to before his committee, urge their adoption, and then quietly go to Camp Perry, and return to my home unless the Red Cross wanted me elsewhere."

That was the last time he saw Col. Daniel

He was stricken down the next day. On the 23d Col. Southmayd received a telegram from the president of the association, saying that his withdrawal from Jacksonville was requested by the surgeon in charge. He immediately turned over all Red Cross matters to W. A. King, of New Orleans, whom he had met in Jacksonville, and took the first train for Camp Perry. Of this camp he speaks in terms of high praise.

In closing his report Col. Southmayd says that he received from Dr. Martin at Green Cove Springs and Dr. Ross at Fernandina, both of the United States navy, voluntary tenders of their services which he turned over to Dr. Mitchell. No reply to this tender having reached these physicians, he desired to call the attention of the association to the matter, and with that view, made grateful mention of them.

The report was accepted and a copy of it ordered to be forwarded to the board of health at Jacksonville.

BASE BALL.

Standing of the Various Clubs at the End of the Race.

The race for the championships has been completed and is as follows:

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.		Won.	Lost.
St. Louis	82	43
Brooklyn	82	52
Athletics	82	52
Cincinnati	80	54
Baltimore	57	81
Cleveland	51	82
Louisville	48	87

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

		Won.	Lost.
New York	84	47
Chicago	77	58
Philadelphia	69	61
Boston	70	64
Detroit	68	63
Pittsburgh	66	68
Indianapolis	60	86
Washington	48	86

From present indications the New Yorks will win the world's championship series from St. Louis. Of the four games already played they have won three, just half enough for a final victory. Seven more games complete the series. The New Yorks have been playing superior ball, both in the field and at the bat.

In the four games played, New York has made a total of twenty-one base hits to the Browns fourteen, and but nine errors to eighteen by the St. Louis. St. Louis has depended entirely on King and Chamberlain as pitchers, while Keefe, Welsh and Crane have filled the points for the New Yorks.

PROHIBITION CHAMPIONED

By the Members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union National convention, at its opening session Friday, resolved, after a lively debate, to adhere to the cause of the Prohibition party championed by Miss Willard, and refused to allow the reading of a protest against this action from the Iowa association, led by Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, a prominent advocate of the Republican party.

At the evening session addresses of welcome were made by President Bart, of the New York union, and Gen. Fisk, the Prohibition candidate for president. Mrs. Mary A. Livermore responded, and then the presentation of a woman's flag from Elizabeth Thompson was made. Miss Willard accepted it. Several other speeches were made.

SYLVESTER GRUBB QUILTY.

He Will Suffer Death for the Murder of Gertie Downey.

VINCENNES, Ind., Oct. 22.—The jury in the case of the state of Indiana against Sylvester Grubb, who killed Gertie Downey on the Princeton fair grounds September 13, Friday returned a verdict finding the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree and fixing death as the penalty. The prisoner sat through the trial manifesting little concern, and when the verdict was read, showed no sign of weakening. Grubb was a rejected suitor of the young lady, but meeting her on the fair grounds led her to a remote locality, where he placed a revolver to her head and fired, the girl lingering several days and dying in great agony. The date of the execution has not been fixed. His hanging will be the first that has occurred in the county since 1822.

Riotous Strikers.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 22.—A number of striking switchmen, formerly employed on the Kansas City, St. Joseph & Council Bluffs road, surrounded the house of Edward Dore, at 1314 Liberty street, Friday afternoon, and broke every window in the house. Several pistol shots were fired. Dore was injured by a rock that struck him on the arm. A squad of police arrived on the scene, but too late to make any arrests. The ill feeling was engendered by Dore's keeping as boarders a number of non-union switchmen who have taken the places of the strikers.

Presentiment of Death.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 22.—Dr. John Scott, an old dentist of this city, died on an express train Thursday morning while en route home from Chicago. He was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs, but recovered sufficiently to start home, and told his fellow passengers that he had a presentiment that he was going to die, and had the conductor to forward two telegrams to relatives here, informing them of his death on the train. Two hours after the messages had been sent he was seized with another hemorrhage, and in five minutes he was dead.

Bull Gores a Man's Eyes Out.

PLAIN CITY, O., Oct. 22.—William Lombard, a prominent young farmer near here, was terribly lacerated by a vicious bull Friday. One horn tore one eye out, crushed through his face and burst the other eyeball. Several ribs were also broken. It is thought he cannot recover.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Mary Smolinski, aged nineteen, a servant, has been arrested for poisoning her employer, David Ginsberg, of 170 Ludlow street, his wife and children, by putting Paris green in their food. The family were made quite ill, but will recover. The girl has been caught stealing small articles, but forgiven. It is thought she is mentally unbalanced.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & McCARTHY,
 Proprietors.

MONDAY EVE., OCT. 22, 1888.

GOVERNOR BUCKNER is stumping the Third and Eleventh districts for his party's Congressional candidates.

EVERY Democrat in Mason County and the Ninth Congressional district should vote for Paynter on the 6th of November.

JACK GARDNER, of Fleming County, has bought a number of horses to be paid for when Harrison is elected, and has sold them to Republicans who will pay for them when Cleveland is elected.

REPORTS from all sections of Mason County indicate the Democrats are thoroughly aroused and better than all, are enthusiastic for Cleveland, Thurman and Paynter. Let the fires be kept burning.

A SPECIAL from Flemingsburg says: "About fifty Democrats here are wearing boots and shoes made by David Regan, a rampant Republican, and will pay him $20 each if Harrison is elected, or call it square if Cleveland is again President."

A VICTORY awaits the Democrats of this district if they will rally to the support of Paynter on November 6th. There should be no stay-at-homes that day. Let's redeem the district and help increase the majority in the House of Representatives at Washington City.

ACCORDING to Professor Peter Clarke this country has never had but three Presidents, notwithstanding history reports twenty-two. These were Andrew Jackson, James Buchanan and G. Cleveland, Esq.—Maysville Republican.

The editor of the Republican was present at the speaking and he knows when he utters the above he willfully misrepresents Professor Clarke. The Republican's criticism is full of gross misrepresentations. What Professor Clarke did say on the point above was that this country had never had but three Presidents of the people—Jackson, Lincoln and Cleveland. Buchanan's name was never once mentioned in the entire address.

THE other day a lot of handsome Republican badges were stopped at the New York custom house for non payment of duty. They will be sold at auction and distributed throughout the country. They bore the legend, "No free trade, but protection for American labor," but it is a fact that they were actually imported from England. What a miserable humbug is all this Republican pretense of regard for the workmen of this country! They patronize the pauper labor of Europe even for their campaign badges.—Covington Commonwealth.

Yes, Blaine brought thirty-five trunks of foreign-made clothing home with him when he returned from Europe. He is now engaged in trying to humbug and frighten the voters of this country with his "free trade" bugaboo. But the people are not to be fooled any longer.

WE have had twenty-seven years of high protective tariff. Now let us see how this much lauded "home market" furnished by the Republican party has served the farmer. In 1860 our farmers sold 90 per cent. of their products at home; in 1870 they sold 80 per cent. at home and in 1880 they sold only 70 per cent. of their products at home. Thus the farmer's home market has each year been proportionally decreased instead of increased. Thirty per cent. of his products must go abroad and compete with the markets of the world. This thirty per cent. which goes to the free trade market of the world, fixes the price of the 70 per cent. which remains at home. For if his product would bring one cent more at home than abroad, not one dollar's worth would be sent abroad. The American farmer to-day buys everything he has to buy in a protected market at protected prices and sells everything he has to sell at prices fixed in a free trade market. The present tariff supports the farmer just about as the rope supports the criminal.

THE Morrill tariff schedule of 1861 contained less than fifteen hundred dutiable articles, while the Mills bill lately passed by the Democratic House of Representatives embodies a schedule of over thirty-five hundred dutiable articles. There is vastly more protection in this Mills bill than there was in any of the various American tariffs previous to the late war and even more protection than in the Morrill tariff of 1861. In view of these uncontrollable facts, what possible grounds are there for the prophecies about destruction to American industry? No grounds exist and no danger can occur. All this Republican talk about "pauper labor," "free trade," &c., is to frighten the millions of American people who demand relief from contraction of the currency, derangement of business, destruction of values and confiscation of property by excessive taxation. But these people are not to be frightened. They understand the falsity of Republican professions and will evidence by the ballot in November their determination to live under laws by which they can at least earn their daily living by the sweat of their faces.

How the Tariff on Copper Works.

The war tariff on copper was 2 cents a pound. Twenty-three years after the war, in time of profound peace, the tariff is 4 cents a pound, just double what it was in time of war.

And what is the result? Eighty thousand American workmen who might be making copper wire, copper bolts, copper screws, copper kettles, copper boilers and a hundred other articles of copper ware to supply our own market and those foreign markets now monopolized by the British, are now idle or have been driven to seek employment in other industries.

The reason of this is very simple. It is because American manufacturers are charged double prices for raw copper produced in this country, while the same copper is actually sold to the British manufacturer, after paying transportation, at rates much cheaper than to our own.

The duty of 4 cents a pound under the existing tariff shuts out foreign copper, doubles the price of domestic copper, discourages and prevents domestic manufacture, leaves American labor in idleness or to seek employment in other trades, while foreign capital and foreign labor control the market and laugh at the monstrous stupidity that shuts American capital and American labor out of foreign markets, and destroys their power at home.

We put up a tariff against the copper ores of Brazil and other South American States, and those countries retaliate by shutting out American flour and destroying our market there.

The American manufacturer, the American workmen, the American consumer of copper goods, the American farmer, and the American miller are swindled by the law, and yet these mine owners insist, and the Republican party coincides, that this tariff must be kept intact under the delusive cry that American labor must be protected.

Freer raw material means more employment, better wages, larger opportunities, cheaper goods, wider markets and increased individual and general prosperity. And that is what you may expect to see when the Democratic policy is fully carried out. Vote to sustain this party of the people in its efforts to revise the present iniquitous tariff and correct its inequalities.

A Word to the Farmers.

The farmers, in spite of all the labor-saving machinery that has been provided for his use, works long hours, practices close economy, makes sacrifice of personal comforts right and left, and yet the great body of the American farmers are engaged in a desperate struggle to keep even and a large percentage are fighting their battle along the very border line of subsistence.

According to the last report of the Commissioner of Labor of Michigan 42 per cent. of the farms of that State are under mortgage.

There are over $175,000,000 of mortgages on the farms of Indiana, $350,000,000 of mortgages on the farms of Ohio and $410,000,000 on the farm lands of Illinois.

The farmers of many of the other Western States are still more heavily encumbered. The exactions of excessive taxation, and many of the millions of dollars which go each year to the trusts and combines are extorted from the farmers in a hundred ways, subtle and unseen, as General Harrison says, but the mortgages which these exactions force on his home is the living fact that follows him from day to day and month to month as an ever present shadow.

This is what he gets from protection. When you are asked to vote to continue this kind of protection you are asked to put the knife to your own throat.

Republicans would continue this high tariff, and make it even higher. Will you vote to sustain them in their effort, or will you vote to aid the Democrats in removing some of this burden you are bearing?

A Negro Shot.

A row occurred among some of the colored hands employed on the new railroad, at Indian Springs near Four Mile, yesterday, during which one of them named Tom Willis was shot. Willis was seriously wounded and his recovery is said to be doubtful. The name of the shooter was not learned.

DEMOCRACY SHALL RULE.

Air—Battle Cry of Freedom.
 It was just four years ago that we did all raise the cry.
 We'll take Grover Cleveland on probation;
 And the way he has ruled is just the reason why
 That he is just the man to rule the nation.

CHORUS.

Hurrah for Grover Cleveland, hurrah boys hurrah,
 Put down this protection, the embers of the war,
 Give a cheer for Grover Cleveland, and honest Thurman, too,
 Democracy shall rule the nation.

Old Democracy has stood the storms for many, many years,
 Loyal to heart to our nation;
 With that motto for our standard, we surely have no fear,
 Shouting our earnest approbation.

On the sixth day of November in the year of eighty-eight,
 We'll show Benny Harrison some manners.
 In a leaky boat we'll send him up Salt river in great shape,
 While we wave the glorious old bandana.

We will spread our Democratic banner proudly to the breeze
 And let it wave for four years more, remember,
 And we'll leave Ben Harrison at home to hug his pet Chinese
 After the election in November.
 —Exchange.

HIS SOUL AT REST.

The Saintly Spirit of the Venerable Stephen Moran Gone to Its Eternal Reward.

The venerable Stephen Moran died Saturday evening about 7 o'clock at his home on Third street, Fifth ward, after an illness of four months. Throughout his sufferings he bore up with that christian fortitude which had characterized his life, and passed quietly and peacefully away to his eternal rest. He realized that the end was near, but the grim messenger had no horrors for him. He had "fought the good fight," had "rendered to Caesar the things that were Caesar's, and to God the things that were God's." For the past quarter of a century he had served mass whenever called upon, both at St. Patrick's Church and at the Visitation Academy, arriving on such occasions early in the morning and taking special delight in paying homage to his Maker and Master in his humble way.

The deceased was born at Westport, County Mayo, Ireland, and was ninety-seven years of age. He came to this country in 1853 and settled in Maysville, residing here continuously from that date up to his death. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Bridget Hennigan, with whom he lived; Mrs. Ann Riley, of Fleming County, and Mrs. Welsh, who still resides in Ireland. Those who knew him knew him to be one of the best and most conscientious men they ever met.

Mr. Moran took the pledge of total abstinence from the famous Father Mathew many years ago in the land of his birth, and when he died was an honorary member of Father Mathew's Total Abstinence Society, of this city. Rev. Father Glorieux celebrated High Mass of Requiem and delivered a suitable eulogy at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Patrick's Church, after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Washington, under the auspices of the Father Mathew's, accompanied by the Cadets and Ancient Order of Hibernians, headed by Haucke's band.

Mr. Thompson has presented it to the BULLETIN and it can be seen at this office. The seed are for sale.

The Famous Mrs. Scott Siddons.

It is a saying so common that it has become almost a proverb, that the children of great men never show the intellectual powers of their fathers. With equal truth it may be said that the distinguished traits of the ancestors are sure to "crop out" in later descendants. Physical and mental traits strongly marked in any person may be traced back almost certainly to some ancestor more or less remote. In no person are the characteristics of an ancestor more clearly developed than in that of Mrs. Scott Siddons. She is the direct descendant of the great Sarah Siddons, the most celebrated actress that England ever produced, who was born in 1755. Her maiden name was Kemble, and she had for her brothers the actors John and Edmund Kemble. Her son, Henry Siddons, grandfather of Mrs. Scott Siddons, was a famous actor in his day. Mrs. Scott Siddons has inherited much of the physical beauty of her great-grandmother, a beauty that Sir Joshua Reynolds and Gainsborough delighted to delineate on canvass. Eyebrow and eye have the true Siddons stamp, with the great white forehead and sharp cut nostrils and wealth of jet-black hair. In a still more marked degree she has inherited the intellectual gifts of the great Sarah, and she has every requisite, personal and acquired, for the high dramatic walk which she has attained. One knows not which to admire most, her surpassing intellectual powers or her unparalleled dignity of deportment and superb beauty.—Exchange.

Mrs. Siddons will appear at the opera house next Wednesday night. Reserved seat tickets can be had at Taylor's.

DEMOCRATS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Rousing Meetings Held Saturday at Sardis, Helena and Burtonville.

The speaking and pole-raising at Burtonville Saturday brought together a large crowd of the Democrats of that section. During the day a pole, one hundred and eighteen feet in length, was erected, overtopping the Republican pole, put up some days ago, by about twenty feet. After the pole-raising there were speeches by Messrs. L. W. Galbraith and C. L. Sallee, of this city. The school house in which the speaking took place was packed to its fullest capacity, and then many had to be turned away. The gentlemen from this city say they never saw a more enthusiastic crowd.

Judge Wall and ex-County Attorney John L. Whitaker spoke at Sardis Saturday afternoon, and Judge Coons and Mr. C. B. Poyntz at Helena, Messrs. Robertson and Worthington not being able to fill their appointment at the latter town.

The attendance at both places was splendid. The best of feeling prevailed, and telling speeches were made. The Democrats of Sardis and Helena are alive to the interests of the party, and up with their neighbors in the enthusiastic support of the nominees. The speakers say they never saw the outlook brighter, but Democrats should bear in mind always that it takes votes to win. There should be no stay-at-homes this time.

Hon. Thomas H. Paynter and Councilmen Wood and Poyntz speak at Lewisburg to-night.

New corn is selling at about $1 50 a barrel in the field in Fayette County.

In Georgia hogs are extensively fed on Spanish peanuts. They do their own harvesting, and generally eat the vines as well as the nuts. It is estimated that an acre of peanuts will furnish four times as much hog feed as an acre of corn.

The Augusta Republican says: "There is considerable talk among farmers and business men over the tobacco question, and a scheme is being perfected by which the price may be made more satisfactory. It is this: It has been suggested that the tobacco growers of the county meet at the county seat and sign an article of agreement, with a pretty stiff penalty, not to raise a pound of tobacco next season. Then branch out into the other counties of the Burley district and induce them to do likewise."

JOHN BULL'S GOLD.

GERMAN EXPLORERS WILL ASK THE ENGLISH TO "CHIP IN"

FOR THE SUPPORT OF ANOTHER EMIN BEY RELIEF EXPEDITION.

But They Are Not Likely to Meet With Any Great Success—Dr. Braman Replies to Dr. Mackenzie's Accusations—Roman Papers Praise Emperor William—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The announcement that Dr. Peters and Lieut. Wissmann are to visit England in search of English gold and support for another Emin Bey relief expedition, is not received here with any great show of cordiality. The prospects are not flitting to say the least, for the German envoys to carry away any large portion of England's wealth for such a purpose nor will they find, indeed, the best English opinion favoring such a scheme.

It appears to be generally believed here that Stanley and Emin Bey are, if not actually together, working in conjunction, and that the latter is in no need of assistance. At all events, the German explorers will not find British gold ready to assist the schemes of Germany for the colonization of Africa. If the dark country is to be colonized, England has her own plans for the accomplishment of this purpose, and these plans do not favor a partnership with any other country, especially Germany. But many do not believe that the time has arrived as yet for the colonization of Africa, and are unwilling to sink money in what they regard as premature and futile schemes.

However, mindful of the lesson taught them by the Germans at Zanzibar, English capitalists do not propose to suffer a repetition of this in Africa, and when they consider the time ripe they will put their plans into execution. Until this time they are perfectly willing that German zeal should bear the brunt of the labor, and take the edge off the perils and hardships incident to the future developments of Africa's vast resources.

In one direction only are Dr. Peters and Lieut. Wissmann likely to find England ready to join them, and that is in the abolition of the slave traffic of Africa. Any plans for the extermination of this practice will meet with sympathy and support in England, and if the Germans want to enlist the assistance of the English, they may succeed on these lines, but will certainly fail if the object is to relieve Emin Bey.

Dr. Braman Talks

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—Dr. F. Braman, whom Dr. Mackenzie accuses of bungling in the make of the tubes used in Emperor Frederick's throat, has something to say in reply. "Dr. Mackenzie accuses me of nearly killing the patient by chloroform February 9. Such faintness often occurs in perfectly healthy persons. It quickly disappears. I deny that the cut I made was three millimeters out of the middle line. Such a deviation is of no consequence anyway. But it was proved afterward, in the presence of all the physicians, that the trachea was opened exactly in the middle."

Dr. Braman showed, by producing the canula and comparing them with Dr. Mackenzie's pictures, that the pictures were false representations, both as to the length and shape of the instruments. He declares that Virchow's and Waldeyer's post-mortem showed that Braman's canula caused no inflammation, as Mackenzie alleged.

Dr. Tobald has made a lengthy reply to Dr. Mackenzie, in which he condemns the Englishman's forceps. Dr. Tobald says Mackenzie was opposed to the post-mortem.
